FUNDRAISER A SUCCESS!

The America's First Federal Credit Union presents the 4th Annual CHHC Fundraising Dinner was a success for the Community of Hope. Not only did a record number of people attend, a record number of donors gave.

Executive Director, Justin Johnston said that the fundraising goal for the 2023 budget was $25,000.

"Each year, the finance committee and me will look at what the clinic's budget was the year before and devise ways to come up with an appropriate budget for the coming year," Johnston said. "This year, we'd hope to raise a minimum of $25,000 for the event, but in reality, I believe we can do closer to $50,000."

Johnston said that with Shelby County being the most affluent county in the state of Alabama, he hopes for my "buy-in" from the residents of the future.

"We really have to understand that those that we see at CHHC are those who really hold our infrastructure together. We need to have a health community from top to bottom," Johnston said.

The event, attended by more than 125 individuals set a record for one night of fundraising, by bringing in more than $23,000. And the feedback was something that Johnston wanted to address.

"The combination of a good program, great location, and even better speaker in Lauren Sisler, made this a successful event," Johnston added.
